

English

In English this half-term, the children will be writing warning stories. They will be reading the warning story 'The Caravan' and 'The Abandoned House'. Children will be focussing on using speech within their writing, similes, expanded noun phrases and the use of complex sentences. They will then write their own warning story.

Suggestions of ways you can support your child's English:

Read various adventure stories.

Science

Our science topic for this half-term is animals including humans. Children will be learning all about the digestive system and how this works. They will then move on to looking at teeth and the different functions of both human and animal teeth.

Extra Information
